

I was with some eggs, I told them a yolk and they cracked up laughing.

We had fun drawing with the chalk outside in the sunshine.

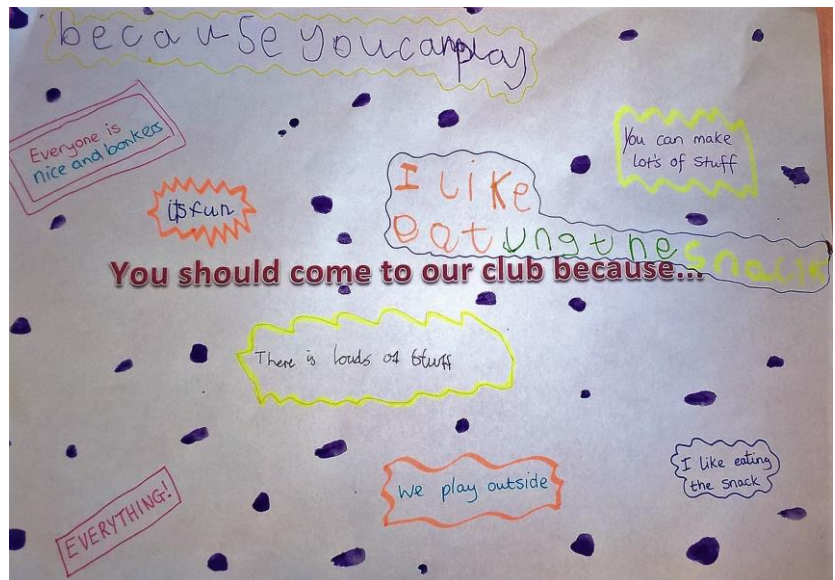

We made hoovers out of the junk and took them home to clean our rooms.

Why did the chicken cross the road?

To get to the other side.

Why did the chicken cross the road with a gun and a pair of scissors?

Because he wanted to shoot across the road and cut corners!!

Why did the dinosaur cross the road?
Because chickens haven't evolved yet!

Have a very Happy Easter!
